

National Association for Gifted Children

Created by National Association for Gifted Children

NAGC invests its resources to train teachers, encourage parents, and educate administrators and policy makers on how to develop and support gifted children.

NAGC is a community of classroom teachers, college/university faculty, graduate students, district and state level administrators, principals, guidance counselors and school psychologists, and parents.

The screenshot shows the homepage of the National Association for Gifted Children (NAGC). At the top, there is a navigation bar with links for DONATE, SHOP, JOIN, BLOG, and LOGIN, along with a search bar. Below the navigation bar, there are four main menu items: About NAGC, Information & Publications, Get Involved, and Professional Learning. The main content area features a large banner for the Javits Frasier Scholar Program, which includes a photo of a group of people and a call to action to 'LEARN MORE AND APPLY'. To the right of the banner, there is a sidebar with a 'Gifted at a Glance' section containing links to 'What is Gifted?', 'Is My Child Gifted?', 'Common Myths', 'NAGC Community Login', and 'Careers in Gifted'. Below the banner and sidebar, there is a section with four columns: ALL, ADMINISTRATORS, EDUCATORS, and PARENTS. Each column contains a 'Featured' section with a title, a brief description, and a link to read more. The 'ALL' column features 'Inside NAGC' with a link to 'Recursos Para los Padres de Familia'. The 'ADMINISTRATORS' column features 'Community News' with a link to 'Congress passes replacement for NCLB'. The 'EDUCATORS' column features 'Learning Library' with a link to 'Check out the latest NAGC Select E-Book'. The 'PARENTS' column features a link to 'What is Gifted?'. The website has a clean, professional design with a green and white color scheme.
